

KENTUCKY IS: A SOUND EXPERIENCE

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 21ST
7:30-8:30 PM, THE SPEAKEASY

"Kentucky Is" presents a night of improvisational music paired with local poets performing original works inspired by the "Celebrating the Sounds of Kentucky," the newest exhibition at the Frazier History Museum.

Join "Poetry Is: A Sound Experience," a local performance collective dedicated to the enrichment of Louisville's literary and arts scenes as they perform unique poetry readings backed by the sounds of Kentuckiana music. Each poet in the collective will write and then perform a new, original work based on an element in the Kentucky Music exhibition that resonates with them. "Kentucky Is: A Sound Experience" is part of a double bill that begins with "The Listening Room," a round table discussion and listening session with local musicians, record store owners, and writers 6 – 7 PM

$14 General Admission | $10 Student Admission | Free for Frazier Members

Tickets at: <https://fraziermuseum.org/ky-music-listening>

Cosponsored by the U of L's Commonwealth Center for Humanities and Society

Questions: education@fraziermuseum.org

Poetry is:
A Sound Experience

UNIVERSITY OF
LOUISVILLE
COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCES